Company description:

At Komatsu Australia you'll be part of an inclusive culture where all our people thrive, reflected in our purpose: creating value together. We encourage people with diverse backgrounds to apply for this role.

Job description:

The Opportunity:

Join a global OEM with a 100-year legacy of engineering excellence, world-class machinery and one of the most advanced parts operations in the industry. As our Parts Transformation Lead - Digital & Process, you'll help modernise how our aftermarket parts ecosystem works across Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific.

Working within a collaborative team of six, you'll drive transformation initiatives that remove friction, improve customer and staff outcomes, and lift the performance of our digital parts platforms. You'll map processes, design future-state journeys, translate ideas into executable work, and partner closely with platform owners, I.T, national parts teams and frontline users.

This is a high-impact role where your work directly improves how customers order, receive and interact with Komatsu parts, supporting the reliability of our world-class machines and strengthening our OEM advantage.

You'll also enjoy up to two days per week working from home, with strong support, shared problem-solving and plenty of collaboration across the team.

Role Located: Fairfield

Komatsu benefits:

- Families Policy: 16 weeks of paid primary carer parental leave, 4 weeks of secondary carer leave, plus many more family friendly benefits.
- Financial: Income Protection Insurance provided through our company superannuation fund.

- Career: Recognition, awards, flexibility, further education studies and internal career development.
- Health: Corporate discount with Bupa, Total Wellbeing Solution with Telus Health.
- Travel: Discounts with Avis, Qantas, Crown, IHG and travel agents.
- Referral Program: $3000 referral payment for referring a successful new employee to Komatsu.

What we are looking for:

- Process design and mapping (as-is / to-be), including exceptions and impact assessment
- Digital and e-commerce experience, with exposure to online platforms and workflows
- Marketing and customer insight knowledge, including understanding customer behaviour, adoption, and CX impacts
- Collaborative delivery, working closely with platform owners and the broader Information Technology Teams.
- Strong business analysis skills, including user stories, acceptance criteria, and documentation
- Change leadership, with the ability to influence stakeholders and guide rollout activities
- Digital fluency, using data and system behaviour to identify and drive improvements
- User-centred approach to continuous improvement, reducing friction for both customers and internal teams
